A Message from the Chairperson

After 27 years of leading the Gaskov Clergé Foundation from a distance, I came home.

On April 28, 2026, I left my job as a Senior Executive at Amazon and moved back to Les Cayes to work alongside the team that has carried this organization for nearly three decades. It's the first time in GCF's history that the Chairperson has been based here, in the community we serve, instead of running things from abroad.

Since coming back, I've sat with our nurses, walked through the waiting room at Klinik Fonfrèd, and talked to families who have gotten the keys to homes they never expected to own. It has confirmed something I already believed but now understand more concretely: health care, education, and economic opportunity aren't separate projects competing for resources. In a place like the Grand Sud, they're the same project, just approached from different angles.

None of it exists without the people who believed in this mission long before I moved home. Twenty-seven years of consultations, scholarships, and rebuilt homes are the result of donors who kept giving, partners who kept showing up, and a board that kept this organization honest and steady. Whatever GCF has become, it belongs to all of you as much as it does to any one of us.

This year I was also elected President of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of the South of Haiti, a role that puts GCF's mission directly at the center of the region's economic future, not just its social safety net. Economic opportunity and corporate responsibility shouldn't be separate conversations in southern Haiti, and this seat gives us a real voice in making sure they aren't. I plan to use it to bring the private sector further into this work, so that business growth in the Grand Sud and the well-being of the families who live here move forward together, not on separate tracks.

A Message from the Chairperson

That same conviction runs through everything in this report. What follows is what it's looked like in practice over the first six months of 2026, a clinic that's kept its word to a community for a decade, a scholarship program that keeps growing, families rebuilding after the earthquake, and a governance structure we're strengthening to carry all of it forward. It's also an ask, and I want to be specific about it. GCF's goal for 2026 is $350,000, and we're already 46 percent of the way there. Fête Créole, our flagship event, is on September 25th in West Palm Beach, our best chance this year to close that gap together.

I left a career I was good at to come back to this work because I believe in what's possible here. I'm asking you to believe in it too, and to help us prove it, the same way this community has proven it to me since April.

With gratitude,

Cosy Joseph | Chairperson and CEO, Gaskov Clergé Foundation

One Mission, Many Fronts

This report touches a lot of ground. A functioning community medical center, a scholarship fund, new homes, key partnerships, a civic seat. On the surface, that can look like a list of separate projects. It isn't. Each one comes from the same belief: that a community does better when health care, education, and economic opportunity are built up together, not one at a time. The sections that follow show what that's looked like in practice over the first six months of 2026.

Where We're Headed

Keep making that bet for ten more years, and by 2035 GCF will have awarded 6,000 primary school scholarships, turned Klinik Fonfrèd into a regional medical and diagnostic center, and helped 500 or more Haitian entrepreneurs get their businesses off the ground. Getting there takes roughly $3.5 million in capital investment over the decade, spread across healthcare, education, and entrepreneurship. This report is where it starts.

Healthcare: Klinik Fonfrèd

Ten Years, Doors Open Every Day

Klinik Fonfrèd marked its 10th year as a permanent clinic in Les Cayes in 2025. It started with 3,771 patients in year one and has since delivered more than 75,000 consultations, part of the 120,000-plus GCF's health programs have provided since the Foundation began in 1999, now reaching 20-plus communities across the Grand Sud. Last year alone, the clinic saw 11,143 patients, two-thirds of them women, nearly a third of them children, under the clinical leadership of Dr. Fatima Joseph, our Medical Director, and a staff of 24 hired from the communities we serve.

What sets Klinik Fonfrèd apart isn't any single program. It's that it's always there. A medical mission comes and goes; this clinic doesn't. Patients know where to find us, and at roughly $10 per consultation including medication, we're one of the most affordable, trusted options in the region.

Olienne and Francois, Ten Years Later

Olienne Altenor and Francois Violette both came to Klinik Fonfrèd in 2016 in genuine emergencies. Olienne's blood sugar was over 500 mg/dL, higher than a standard glucometer could even read. Francois's blood pressure was 210 over 120.

A decade of steady care later, both numbers have come down and stayed down, Olienne's blood sugar now sits between 70 and 120, Francois's blood pressure holds around 130 over 80. They come in for routine monthly visits now, not emergencies. Patients here call the nurses manman lavi, mothers of life, and after watching Olienne and Francois's charts over ten years, it's not hard to see why.

SCAPS Medical LLC is a Primary Care Medical Practice Servicing Palm Beach County since 2009. Dr. Pierre Deltor, our founder, has more than 20 years of experience in the West Palm Beach area as a Primary Care Physician.

At SCAPS Medical LLC, we provide comprehensive, compassionate, and high quality care. Our goal is to make each patient feel like a member of our family. We want to create a comfortable partnership between you and our providers, to ensure that you will receive the best possible care.

SERVICES:

We offer a wide range of services such as: Annual Wellness Check, Chronic Care Management, Commercial Driver License Certification and more.

We accept most commercial insurance plans as well as Medicare and Medicaid.

Education and Scholarships

GCF has awarded roughly 3,000 scholarships since 1999. This academic year, we're supporting over 210 students aged 6 to 14 across 12 partner schools, at about $200 to $300 per scholarship per year. Around 80% of scholarship students stay enrolled year over year, which tells us the model works once a child is in it, the harder part is reaching the ones who aren't yet.

Scholarships for Our Own Staff's Kids

We also cover scholarships for the children of Klinik Fonfrèd's staff. It's a small program, but it matters: nurses and staff who know their own kids are covered can focus fully on the patients in front of them.

Essay Contests, Two Countries

This year we ran essay contests in both Haiti, with Ecolojeune, and the United States, with the School District of Palm Beach County. Both were built around cultural identity and critical thinking, and gave young Haitians on both sides of the water a real platform to be heard.

Healthcare: Klinik Fonfrèd

Mobile Clinics and Medical Missions

Three mobile clinics now carry Klinik Fonfrèd's care into Simon, Derrière Fort, and several indigenous communities that had no doctor before GCF arrived, in partnership with ARCAM. In 2025, these mobile visits reached over 1,000 patients, and the reach kept growing into 2026 with three missions:

February 28, 2026
Derrière Fort, with ARCAM: over 200 patients in one day.

June 13, 2026
Simon, with ARCAM: 150 patients.

August 1, 2026
Saint Jean du Sud, with the local public dispensary and sponsorship from the Belfort and Bernard families: over 200 patients.

People in each of these communities were genuinely grateful, and it was a good reminder that consistent access to care is about dignity as much as medicine.

Healthcare: Klinik Fonfrèd

Nurses Week, May 2026

We celebrated Nurses Week at Klinik Fonfrèd this year in person rather than with an email or a social post. We asked each nurse to say something kind to the person next to them, and the room changed — quieter, warmer, a little emotional. It was a small gesture, but it mattered, because these are the people patients trust with their lives every day.

Seven Months to Get Two Cars Through Customs

Two vehicles bought for the clinic arrived in Port-au-Prince in January 2026. Getting them released took seven months, two government ministries, an exoneration letter from the Minister of Finance, and eventually the Ministry of Public Health stepping in to cover the clearance fees. They should reach Klinik Fonfrèd by the end of August, which will help us get mobile clinics and staff around the Grand Sud more easily. It's a small story, but it says something about what it takes to keep this work running in Haiti right now.

A Ministerial Visit

On April 14, 2026, a delegation from the Ministère des Haïtiens Vivant à l'Étranger (MHAVE), led by Minister Kathia Verdier, visited Klinik Fonfrèd as part of National Diaspora Day. Officials spoke about the importance of the Haitian state and the diaspora working together, which is more or less exactly what GCF has been doing for 27 years.

SCAPS MEDICAL LLC
WHERE WE CARE

Community Resilience and Development

Homes for Families Displaced by the Earthquake

Since the 2021 earthquake, GCF's housing initiative has completed three permanent homes for displaced families in southern Haiti, with two more, homes four and five, currently under construction in Flamand. Every one of these homes takes real time and real money, and every one is worth it. This isn't a program with a finish line so much as an ongoing commitment to families who lost everything in 2021.

A New Front: The Ayiti Home Link Resilience Network

Haiti is dealing with a new wave of displacement right now, as Haitians return from abroad because of TPS terminations, deportations, and voluntary returns. In the second half of 2026, we're looking at whether GCF's community-based model could extend into this space through Ayiti Home Link's "HUBS" framework, local points of contact that help returnees with immediate needs like food and transport, then longer-term support like mental health, reconnecting with family, and finding work or starting a business. Nothing is funded yet, and this is still an early conversation. But it's the same kind of work we've already proven we can do. We will keep you posted as it develops.

Community Resilience and Development

Women, Technology, and Entrepreneurship

GCF was a main sponsor of the Salon Régional de la Technologie et de l'Entrepreneuriat Féminin, alongside the Chamber of Commerce of Women Entrepreneurs and Professionals of the South and CLÉ Haitian Sisterhood. Our Chairperson gave a talk on digital marketing to the more than 200 women entrepreneurs and students who attended, part of a growing platform for women in tech and business across the Grand Sud.

Medical Partner: Les Cayes Marathon

For the seventh year running, Klinik Fonfrèd served as the official medical partner for the Les Cayes Marathon, covering athletes from pre-race readiness through race-day response. It's become one of the region's real symbols of resilience, and we're glad to be part of it.

Civic and Thought Leadership

GCF as a Role Model for Civic Engagement

It started with a classroom in Les Cayes. On May 30, 2026, our Chairperson spent two hours with Haitian youth at Junior Chamber International (JCI) Cayes Renaissance's École sur la Citoyenneté, talking about civic engagement and leadership. What she heard there reshaped how we think about this work: young people described a culture of staying quiet about civic issues, passed down across generations as a way to survive in an unstable environment, and often reinforced by their own parents. That conversation could have ended in frustration. Instead, it became the starting point for a year spent turning that silence into a public voice.

The Mandodo Foundation carried that forward, inviting her to moderate a panel on civic engagement and speak on a separate panel about technology and artificial intelligence. A week later, at Dev Expo 2026 on June 6, she moderated the flagship panel, "AI as an Engine for Haiti's Development: Building Sustainable Change from the Ground Up," pushing technology leaders and entrepreneurs past the hype to ask what AI can realistically do for Haiti, and what has to be true for it to help communities rather than pass them by. JCI, Mandodo, and Dev Expo were three different rooms, but one argument: that civic courage and technology aren't separate conversations, they're two pieces of the same case for what Haiti's development actually requires.

That argument found a home. This year, she was elected President of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of the South of Haiti, a separate role from her work with the Chamber of Commerce of Women Entrepreneurs, and one that puts her at the head of the region's main cross-sector business association. It's a vote of confidence from the Grand Sud's business community in the same case she'd been making all year, that speaking up is not a risk a region can avoid, it's a strategy it can no longer afford to skip. It also means GCF's reach now extends well beyond any one organization.

Funding Momentum

GCF's fundraising goal for 2026 is $350,000, raised across many different funders on purpose, so that losing any single one wouldn't put the mission at risk. Here's where that's stood through the first half of the year:

- The AIDS Healthcare Foundation approved a $15,000 grant tied to our HIV testing and patient referral work, nominated by Karine Duverger and currently being pro cessed.

- The Ban Ki-Moon Foundation invited GCF into its inaugural AMPLIFY Ayiti cohort, recognizing our leadership and giving us a platform to share what we've learned with peer organizations across Haiti, along with a $17,000 grant now being final ized.

- A New York fundraising event brought in about $40,000.
- Vice Chair Dr. Gervais Charles personally raised $15,000.

All together, we've raised $159,917 through August, which puts us at 46% of the $350,000 goal at the halfway point of the year. Most of that has come from individual donors and events, not grants, grants and institutional recognition like our UNICEF Civil Society Organization partner status matter for credibility, but the actual budget runs on people showing up at events like Fête Créole, which is aiming to bring in an- other $50,000 in September.

Financial Integrity and Impact

At the Gaskov Clergé Foundation, financial integrity is about aligning resources with our mission, protecting the trust placed in us, and ensuring that every contribution produces meaningful community impact.

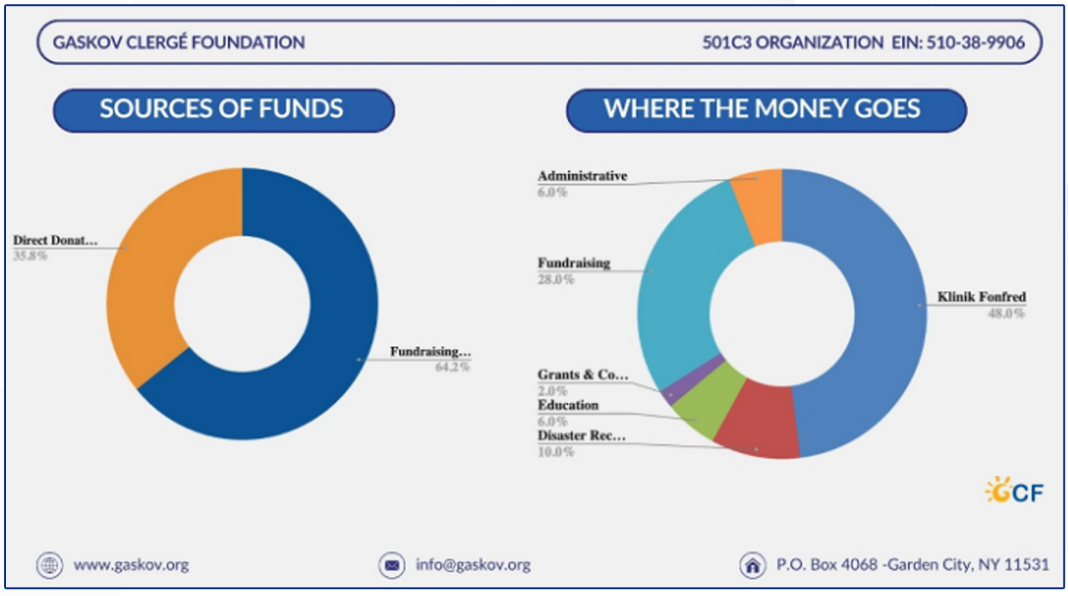
In 2025, we generated $257,153 in total public support and revenue. Of that amount, $92,063 came from direct donations, while $165,019 was raised through special events and fundraising activities. This means that approximately 64 percent of our 2025 revenue was generated through community engagement efforts, while 36 percent came from direct donations. This diversified support base reflects both strong community participation and our ability to mobilize resources beyond traditional funding channels.

Our total expenses for 2025 were $272,998, resulting in a modest year-end deficit of $15,846. This shortfall reflects a deliberate and strategic investment decision rather than a structural imbalance. In 2025, we invested in the purchase of a vehicle to support staff transportation. Prior to this investment, we were spending over $6,500 annually on transportation. The vehicle purchase represents a cost-optimization strategy that will reduce recurring expenses over time while improving operational efficiency and reliability for Klinik Fonfred and our program staff.

Financial Integrity and Impact

We remained strongly mission-focused in how funds were deployed. Of total expenses, approximately 66 percent supported direct program services, including healthcare, education, grants, and construction. Klinik Fonfred alone represented nearly 48 percent of all expenses, underscoring our deep commitment to healthcare access. Education accounted for nearly 6 percent of total spending, while construction and recovery investments represented close to 10 percent, reflecting our continued support for families rebuilding after disaster.

We maintained a disciplined approach to operations. Administrative expenses remained lean at approximately 6 percent of total expenses, while fundraising expenses represented about 28 percent of total spending, reflecting the cost of generating community-based revenue through major events and engagement efforts that sustain our broader mission.



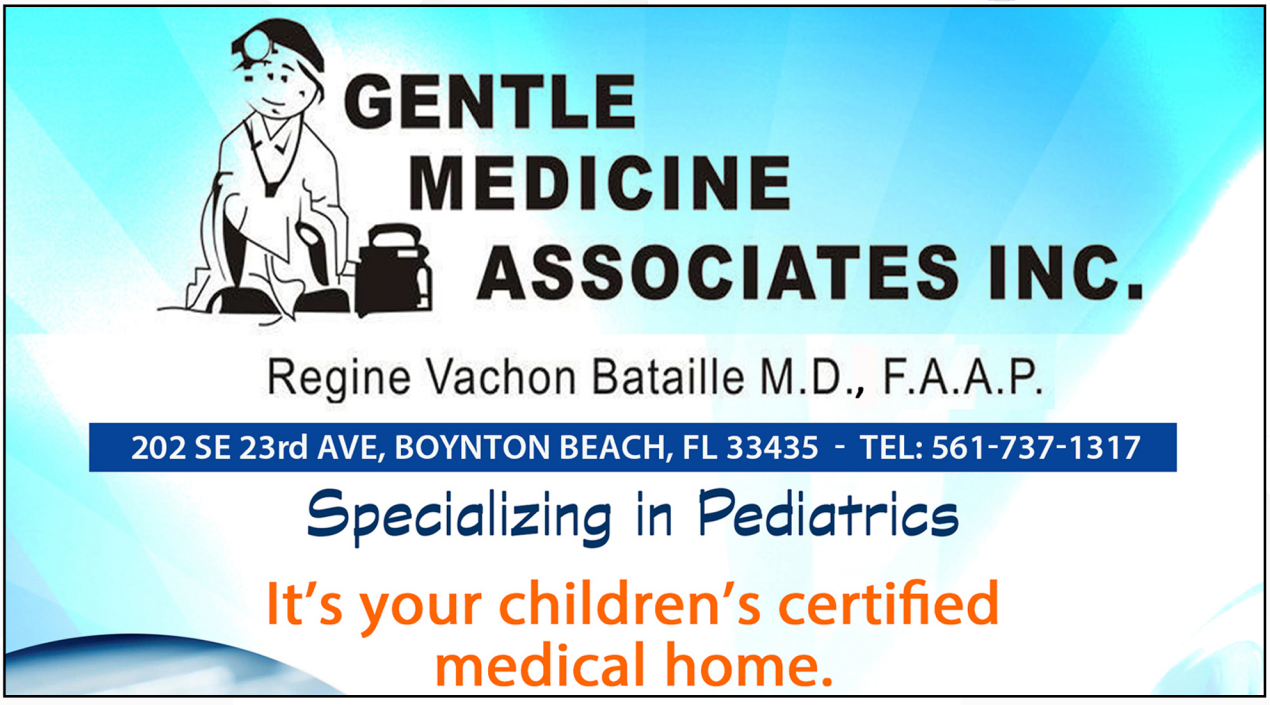
Over time, this commitment to financial integrity has translated into real scale. According to our historical records, we have managed more than $3.15 million in cumulative revenue since 1999. During that same period, we have supported nearly 2,905 scholarship recipients and helped finance more than 128,000 medical consultations across our medical missions and Klinik Fonfred.

These numbers reflect more than financial performance, they represent lives impacted. We are not only delivering results; we are doing so with discipline, transparency, and a clear commitment to ensuring that every dollar entrusted to us advances our mission and contributes to long-term community transformation.

Looking Ahead: Second Half of 2026

Fête Créole, September 25, 2026, West Palm Beach

Our flagship annual event returns Friday, September 25, in West Palm Beach, with a goal of raising $50,000 toward the $350,000 target for the year. This year's campaign carries a name that says exactly what it means: Kanpe pou Ayiti, stand up for Haiti. It's our best chance each year to bring donors, partners, and the broader community into the same room, and this year we're also inviting impact investors and institutional partners who haven't seen the full scope of what GCF has built.



Our goal is to introduce OB-GYN services for vulnerable women at Klinik Fonfrèd. Funds raised will be invested in the first phase of expanding the clinic itself, adding OB-GYN care and expanding diagnostic capacity that the South does not currently have anywhere nearby."

The Vehicles Finally Arrive

By the end of August, the two vehicles that spent seven months in customs will finally reach Klinik Fonfrèd, giving us more room to move patients, staff, and mobile clinic operations around the Grand Sud.

A Retreat for the Team

The Klinik Fonfrèd team will gather for a leadership and staff retreat later this year, time to recognize what's been built over the past decade and focus on the future.

With Gratitude to Our Partners

None of this happens without partners willing to invest time, money, and trust in GCF. Thank you to:

- Hope for Haiti
- UNICEF (Civil Society Organization Partner)
- AIDS Healthcare Foundation (AHF)
- Ayiti Community Trust (ACT)
- Ban Ki-Moon Foundation / AMPLIFY Ayiti
- ARCAM — Association Régionale des Cayes à Montréal

- Ministère de la Santé Publique et de la Population (MSPP)
- Mandodo Foundation
- The Belfort and Bernard families
- Chamber of Commerce of Women Entrepreneurs and Professionals of the South
- CLÉ Haitian Sisterhood

And to every donor and volunteer not named here individually — thank you for being part of this.

"We may not solve every challenge, but we can choose to show up, to build, and to create pathways where none existed before. That is how change begins and how opportunity becomes possible."
